The Pourth Ward.

In the Fourth Ward, there was not quite so exeming a time of it, as some prople expdcted to see. This is known as the "Algerine" Ward, is a large one, pretty densely populated with Irishmen, and has usually given a large Democratic majority. With one or two late exceptions the adopted citizens have had it ail their own way,

There had been extensive preparations made to re-assert their ancient prescription' on yesterday, secure the judges, and control' the polis. It was well understood that the # degraded Irish population, incited by the Cow-boys, were to appear in force. They had "been advised to refrain from drinking and keep quiet," and if the Know Nothings undertook to rule the polls, to put 'em thro'. But they missed a figure or two in their calculations. Some of Sam's boys got up so early that they "didn't go to bed at all," and were constantly on hand like Day & Marting blacking. At the time of opening the polle, there was a pretty good sized row ! of Americans looking on, and a ve y much larger one of foreigners and Cow-boys. When the born, until they sh nid be proved as citizens; and when the would-be judges made a rush for the inside, they were quetly hustled over the railing. Here an Irish patriot man drew a "colt." with "we'll have the polls or fight." "Talk enough," was the rejoinder, "wa'll keep the polls or die," accompanied with the extraction of a formidable looking bowie-kaife .--Now your Ir shmen understand a "shindy" well enough, handle a spillalagh "be catifuland easily 'all back on first principles in the shape of paving .- he rather likes it, but howic knives and pistols don't grow in the hedgers andthe peasantry ute tuther afraid of the animal. All went well until two or three attempts were made utillegal voting, and one "adopted" struck his chillenger-a gray headed resident of the ward-over the head with a boit. Of course this brought on anof ser row, from the effects of which Irishman is not expected to recover soon.

On a repetition of these attempts to bully in illegal voters, the Irishm in were persuaded to move in a body, which they did; with perroad between Waccling and Washington un- the summit of the hill from which, when mission to cone back two at a time; and all who could prove that they were entitled to a vote, would be protected in giving it. VACUABLE TESTIMONIALS.—There is a very com-mon impression that Patent Medicines, as they a s termed, are used only by the poor and the ignorant. But from the tollowing, it uppears that there is at least one Molicone which has worked its way into least one Melicene which has worked its way into high circles, and is being used extensively by "the per ten."
